Victoria's Great-Grandchildren.

An interesting picture is the latest published portrait of the queen. In it are the sons and daughters of the duke of York. The eldest, Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, born at White Lodge, Sheen, on June 23, 1894, has been named after his great-grandfather and his grandfather, and he bears the names of the patron saints of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales. His brother, Prince Albert Frederick Arthur George, was born at York Cottage, Sandringham, on Dec. 14, 1895. Their sister, Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, was born at York cottage on April 25, 1897.

Not a Big Rush.

The alleged discovery of gold-bearing ore in the vicinity of Galena, Kan., has not provoked the wild enthusiasm that usually attends such finds. There is plenty of excitement and much interest manifested, but there is not a rush of prospectors. This is to some extent due, however, to the fact that the prospectors have kept the location of the reported find secret.

DEER FORESTS OF SCOTLAND.

Nearly One-Eighth of the Country is Kept for Their Benefit.

A recent parliamentary return gives some startling figures in relation to Scotch deer forests. The returns relate to the six highland crofting counties only—the counties of Argyll, Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, Caithness, Orkney and Shetland. In the Orkney and Shetland islands there are no deer forests, so we have practically to deal with four counties. In these four counties there are no less than 2,287,297, or more than two millions and a quarter, acres given to the preservation of deer. Forestry has proceeded apace during recent years. Since 1882 nearly 600,000 acres have been added to the forest acreage. The whole area of Scotland in acreage is about 19,500,000; it follows that, reckoning the forests in four counties alone, one acre in every eight and a half is kept waste for the rearing of deer. In order that on a few days in the year a few persons may enjoy the killing of a certain number of these beautiful animals this vast area is, for the most part, sealed against the intrusion of man. No one but the owner and his friends and keepers may set foot on mountain or glen. The total area under tillage in Scotland is about 9,500,000. If, therefore, allowance is made for the forests in other highland counties, it seems probable that the total acreage of deer forest is not far short of that under crop. It is some consolation to learn that in the four counties in question the forests are assessed to rates at over £100,000. Certainly the subject with which Mr. Bryce now and again essayed to deal is one which grows in importance every year.—London Times.

A BOER WEDDING.

It is the Occasion for Sports and Festivities of Every Kind.

The Boer girl is a great dancer. A wedding is the occasion for festivities. No quiet ceremony for your Boer maiden. Friends and relations from a long way off are invited and come, even if it takes them ages to get there, and the Boer homestead, usually so tame and dreary a center, becomes the pivot of all sorts of amusement. Scores of ox teams are scattered about the surrounding veldt; native servants are bustling about; guns are fired promiscuously whenever more guests arrive; dancing, feasting and coffee drinking are carried on in the farm and everywhere around it; impromptu shooting matches and horse races are contested and the joy is unrestrained. After the wedding, and when all the guests have kissed the bride and bridegroom, the marriage feast is eaten, and then the guests spend the night in dancing and playing games. It would be a breach of etiquette for any of them to depart before the dawn, and, indeed, the fiddler's music and the sound made by the dancing feet are often heard until noon the next day. The wedding tour of the newly married pair is brief, merely the journey to the farm which the husband has secured from his father, and which adjoins the old homestead.

Shutful Shopping.

New York Letter: Three women and a man, comprising an expert gang of shoplifters from this city, were arrested in Newark Saturday night with nearly a wagon load of plunder taken from the counters of three or four big department stores in that city. The detectives found that the women had no big pockets in their skirts or shoplifters' bags, but were provided with hooks and strings, and had hooks on the heels of their shoes. Things which they had brushed from the counters to
